Subject: the police

Deb,

I never thought I would see the politicization of the Police Department that is under way. Corwin going to that news conference and being part of Mark's stunt to pit institutions against each other is irresponsible. It is one thing for Mark to become a tool for political stunts under the direction of Jeff Roe, but another for Chief of Police to go along. Mark seems to have no interest in putting forth a rational budget, but using this crisis to score political points in the short term.
Good Luck.
